For the Mil Lers had eaten the wild Tigers of the Jungle, even as the summer sun consumeth the starch in a collar. Now, when it was known that the Mil Lers were to come and do battle with the Hoo Zhurs, those of little faith were sore afraid and ready to yield all hope in two the warriors from the city of XXX and XX and red dog, and other grindings of corn, did administer a soak to the ball that gave him a right and indisputable title to the base known as second. And there arose a wail from the people. And Scott, of the Hoo Zhurs, having pitched the ball at unresisting space, instead of into the hands of Ka Hoe, Day Viss gat him the only run the Mil Lers gat that day, from the beginning of the battle to the ending thereof. For Nance had thrown away his life that Day Viss might wax great and be acvanced. Yet the hearts of the Hoo Zhurs sank not within them, and their upper lips were as boards for stiffness. And it came to pass in the inning billed as second that McFarland, he of the mighty arm and eye of the eagle, swiped the sphere for a single past him of the tribe of Smith, and Flynn laid himself upon the altar.

And the king of the tribe of Anti-Bunters said of Flynn: "Lo, he playeth baby ball!" But Stewart, by the fumbling of Perry, the Paleozoic, whose hand lost its cunning, gat him to first and even to second, and Hickey smote to the land of Leftfield for

And it came to pass in the order of batting, which is the law laid down for the warriors and the line-up of precedence, that Asa, of the long flies, smote mightily to Nance.

20,000 AT A BOAT RACE

IMMENSE BOSTON CROWD SAW ED-WARD HANLON TEN EYCK WIN.

Young Oarsman Easily Won Championship-Pennsylvania Barge Club Wins Eight-Oared Shells.

BOSTON, July 29 .- The result of the threecornered championship single scull race between young Edward Ten Eyck, Joseph Maguire and Joseph Whitehead, which served to attract over 20,000 people to the banks of the Charles river this afternoon, was scarcely a feature in the second and final day of the national regatta. Ten Eyck easily rowed away from his opponents and merely paddled over the line at the finish, six lengths ahead of Maguire and nine ahead of Whitehead. Still, Ten Eyck came within a foot of losing the race on a foul, for he turned the wrong buoy and Maguire missed his shell by a short foot. Maguire's subsequent protest was not allowed. The two eight-oared events, the senior of which was won by the Pennsylvania Barge Club, and the intermediate that came over from yesterday and was won by the Boston Athletic Association, were both hotly contested, while the intermediate doubles and the fouroared races were fully as exciting. The New York Athletic Club won the fouroared, and the Jeffries Point Rowing Association, of East Boston, the doubles, while the intermediate singles and the association senior singles were won by Frank B. Guer, also of the Jeffries Point and John Rumoher, of Rat Portage. But one accident marred the day's sport, and again the Vesper crew, of Philadelphia, in the intermediate eight-oared race, was the unfortunate victim. With a winning lead No. 2 in the boat broke his rowlock. With great heroism he jumped overboard rather than become a passenger. He was picked up in safety, but wept when his crew lost the race. The weather conditions were very good, although the water was not as smooth as yesterday and the inside course was worth a length over the outside. A greater crowd never assembled in this city. From Harvard bridge, which was packed with humanity, to the finish line a mile away the right bank of the Charles was lined with enthusiasts five and six deep, while toward the boat clubhouse the streets were crowded. Young Ten Eyek had no difficulty in proving his superiority in the single scull race from the very start, when he deliberately rowed over to his opponents' smoother water and kept there throughout the race Ten Eyck, who had the outside position. with the rough water, jumped ahead at the start, and with a few quick, strong strokes swept right across the bow of Whitehead. who had the middle position, until he was half a length in front of Maguire. To an inferior sculler such a move would have been fraught with great peril from the danger of a foul, but the Wachusett man was very confident of his ability, and soon pulled out a length or two ahead of his opponents into a safe position. In the meantime Whitehead had fallen behind, and he never caught up again during the race. Ten Eyck watched Maguire and responded spurt for spurt, and as he neared the line put three lengths between his shell and that of the Bradford man. With this apparently safe lead he made for Maguire's turning buoy, instead of cutting over to the other side of the course for his own mark, which he could have easily done and lost but little. He had not swung completely round when Maguire reached the buoy, and a quick stroke on the latter's part would undoubtedly have brought about a collision, which, under the rules, would have given Maguire the race. Maguire, however, did not realize how near he was to Ten Eyck until the latter had pulled away in safety. The remainder of the race was a mere procession. Ten Eyck getting four or five ish. On the way down the Wachusett man dropped his stroke to 28 and later to 25 and almost ceased rowing before his shell went over the line, six lengths ahead of Maguire. a mile of the finish to get away from White- | furlongs. head rather than to catch Ten Eyck. Ma-guire subsequently protested Ten Eyck, but the referee had previously received a statement from the judge at the turn and disallowed the protest, as the judges said that the boats did not touch each other. In the senior international fours the Brockville crew simply rowed away from the St. Louis four At a meeting of the executive committee this morning Walter Stimpson, of the Ar-lington Boat Club, was elected president of the associatioin. Summary: Senior singles: Won by Edward Hanlon Ten Eyck: Joseph G. Maguire, second: Joseph J. Whitehead, third. Winner's time, Senior eight-oared shells: Won by Pennsylvania Barge Club, Philadelphia; Knick-erbocker Athletic Club, New York, second; Millstream Boat Club, Chelsea, Mass., and Vesper Boat Club, Philadelphia, tied for third place. Winner's time, 7:40%. Intermediate eight-oared shells (postponed from yes, erday): Won by Boston Athletic Association; New York Athletic Club, second; Vesper Boat Club, third. Winner's time, 8:06.

The Right of Woman to Propose. Self Culture. It is distinctly amusing that grave women, such as like to attend international conventions of women and talk about the future of the race and kindred topics, should lend themselves to a discussion of the subject. "Ought the Women to be Permitted to Propose?" That they should consent to be interviewed upon this subject and give a brief notoriety to a lecturer who took this foolish theme for his subject, shows that the leaders of the suffrage party have lost the sense of values and have come to attach undue importance to all matters concerning their sex. Were their memories good or had they been in the confidence of many young women they would have known quite well that the spirit of love is no respecter of per-sons, and that adroitly and after her own fashion woman does propose. But she al-ways regrets the necessity. For she does not wish to take the initiative. She does not doubt her right to do it. She certainly does not question her ability. But she desires to be sought; she claims the privilege of assumming reluctance. Her ancient coquetry will not leave her, and she is fain to amuse herself with her immemorial feints. It is not a question of rights, and every analytical woman knows it, and smiles with covert and subtle wile when she hears that Mrs. Stanton and a number of other ladies have forgotten the facts that their lost youth must have taught them. To be candid, women in general have always been more interested in their privileges than in their rights.

THE RACE POSTPONED. Not Enough Wind for the Seawan

haka Event Yesterday.

DORVAL, Quebec, July 29 .- Lack of wind caused the postponement until Monday of the second race for the Seawanhaka challenge cup between the Constance and Glencairn to-day. Scarcely a breath of air was stirring on Lake St. Louis when the time for the start came, and, although the rules call for a race starting not later than 3 o'clock, it was mutually decided that the time limit should be extended until 4:30. At that hour, however, there was almost a dead calm and the race was called off for the day. It was stated to-day that on the last windward beat in yesterday's race the Glencairn's centerboard took the ground, swinging her off badly and causing her to loose considerable time.

Count Boni Lost First Race. COWES, July 29 .- The first of three international races for the cup de France took place on the Solent to-day. The course was twenty-four miles. The Temple Y. C., holder of the cup, defended the title with the Laura, owned by Edward Hore. The challenging club is the Union des Yachts Francais, and Count Boni de Castellane specially constructed the yacht Anna to try to re-

DAVIS DEFEATED LARNED.

Young Haivard Tennis Player Now Favorite for Longwood Cup. BOSTON, July 29.-The tennis at Longwood to-day was in the nature of a Waterloo for the veterans, for Dwight F. Davis by his brilliant playing defeated William A Larned, the hero of the New York national contest, in the finals for the Longwood cup, and Campbell and Huntington, the two other old-timers, also fell by the wayside in the eastern doubles. Larned's defeat by Davis ard man a favorite in Monday's contest for the Longwood cup with Champion Whitman. Another veteran pair, Whitman and Wrenn, also met defeat during the day and Davis was hero this time, with his partner Holcombe Ward. This latter match was played in the morning. The first set was easy for Ward and Davis, their opponents getting but two games. The next set was hard fought by Whitman and Wrenn and they came very near taking it, but at the last the younger pair rallied and ran out, 8 to 6. Ward and Davis had the third set, three games, before the other pair pulled out a game. After one more brace the old team fell before the young and Ward and Davis took the set and match, 6 to 2 Larned and Davis come on to the court shortly before 3 o'clock and were warmly received. Davis started off with his usual rush, taking three games, although the third was a hard one. Then the veteran braced and managed to get the set, 6 to 1. In the double another veteran pair went down before two younger players, Budlong and Wright defeating Campbell and Huntington SOUTHAMPTON, July 29 .- A portion of the Harvard-Yale athletic team, which competed in the interuniversity sports at the Queen's Club last Saturday, sailed for home to-day on the American liner St. Louis. A crowd assembled at the collegians' hotel in London this morning to bid them farewell. They all sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen." Hearty hand-shakes and drinking of healths followed and amid cheers from their friends the athletes started for the Waterloo station. A battallon of the Grenadier Guards en route to Aldershot gave the Americans a rousing cheer as the train started, in response to which the Harvard-Yale boys vigorously waved their college colors.

What Sleeplessness Means.

Science Siftings. Medical scientists have now demonstrated that a brain cell actually loses part of its substance during action. The cell of the exhausted brain, instead of being plump and full of nervous matter, is found to be hol-lowed out, or "vacuolated," a cavity having formed without its substance, which has become filled with water. This means that a part of the cell substance has been actually consumed, precisely as coal is consumed when one gets heat from a furnace. It has been found that if an animal whose brain cells are thus exhausted be permitted to sleep, its cells readily recuperate, new material is supplied from the blood until the which they will be shipped to England in cell is as good as new. The brain of a person, therefore, who is beset by sleeplessness is in the condition of a locomotive which runs night and day without going to the repair shop.

EDDIE M'DUFFEE BREAKS MAJOR TAYLOR'S BEST RECORD.

Pierce, of Boston, Defeats Champion Elkes in a Century Race at Manhattan Beach.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 29 .- Eddie McDuffle, champion middle distance rider of the world, broke the world's mile record on the Buttonwood cycle track this afternoon, making the mile in 1:28. This is the first mile ever ridden under 1:30, motor paced. The first quarter was made in 23 seconds. The second quarter was made a trifle faster, 22 seconds, while the third was in 20 3-5 seconds. The rider could not quite hold this terrific pace, and on the last quarter dropped to 22 2-5 seconds, but he had clipped 3 seconds and a fraction from the former record.

PIERCE, OF BOSTON, WON. Elkes Showed Much Pluck in the 100-Mile Race.

NEW YORK, July 29 .- The one-hundredmile paced bike race at Manhattan Beach track to-day was won by Burns Pierce, of Boston, the present holder of the one-hundred-mile American record. He falled, however, to beat his own record of 3 hours, 24 minutes, 41 1-5 seconds, finishing in 3 hours, 27 minutes, 52-5 seconds. The stiff breeze blowing across the track probably lessened the champion's speed. Frank Waller was second in 3 hours, 44 minutes, 31/4 seconds. There were four starters for the $1,000 purse -Burns Pierce, of Boston; Harry Elkes, of Glens Falls, N. Y., the middle distance champion of America; Charles W. Miller, of Chicago, long distance champion of the world, and Frank Waller, of Boston. The win the trophy. The other races of the series will take place July 31 and Aug. 2.

The yachts to-day had a good start in a northwest breeze. The Laurea gained at the start and gradually increased her lead.

Elkes finished the thirty-fifth mile in hour, 5 minutes, 56 3-5 seconds. Pierce led him again at the thirty-seventh mile, but he had retaken his old place in the next mile. When they had finished the forty-seventh mile Pierce shot ahead, this time with marked advantage, which he continued to improve, passing the fiftieth mile a lap ahead of Elkes. Pierce continued to gain and was evidently as fresh as when he started, while Elkes showed signs of giving out. The Boston man went ahead at a furious pace. He made the fifty-sixth mile with Elkes three laps (one mile) behind. Elkes's condition had now become apparent to everybody and when Pierce completed the fifty-seventh mile Elkes left the track. He was then a mile and a lap the loser. Elkes returned, however, and when Pierce finished the sixty-third mile Elkes had fifty-seven miles, two laps, and Waller, fifty-seven miles one lap. At the sixty-ninth mile for Pierce, Elkes again became played out and Waller was then six miles behind Pierce. Elkes was, however, not yet beaten and with splendid pluck the boy was out again by the time Pierce was rounding up his seventy-second mile.

> Overdraw Account $25,000. NEW YORK, July 29 .- In the desk of George W. Valentine, the defaulting cashier of the Middlesex County Bank, at Perth Amboy, N. J., there was found yesterday evidence that the man had been habitually overdrawing his account for large sums with the knowledge of the bank officials. Thomas Maguire, the receiver, after a busy day, found papers and documents in Valentine's desk which show a startling state of affairs. There was a note for $25,000 given by Valentine and unindorsed, which was charged to the young man's account as an overdraft and duly recognized as such by > the bank officials. This young man, now serving a six years' sentence in the Trenton penitentiary, having been convicted of robbing his employers of $225,000, remained in the employ of the bank a year and a half after this overdraft was charged to his account. He was at the time receiving $2,500 a year as cashier. Uriah E. Watson, the president of the bank, when asked last night for an expla-nation of such a state of affairs, said that he did not remember that an overdraft for that amount had been made. He said that a year and a half ago young Valentine had considerably overdrawn his account, but that he understood his father would make the amounts good.

SENT POISON TO HERSELF. Plot Within a Plot in the San Francisco Poisoned-Fruit Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29 .- The mystery of the sending of a basket of poisoned fruit to Miss Florence Campbell, of No. 610 Ellis street, has been solved by Chief of Police Lees, and the result shows there was no attempt made to take life and no one was even made ill by the polsoned fruit. It appears Miss Campbell sent the poison to herself in furtherance of a little plot by which she hoped to keep her name from figuring as co-respondent in a divorce sult. According to the confession which has been made by Miss Campbell, the basket of fruit way sent on June 29 to No. 610 Ellis street. It was claimed at first that Miss Campbell and Mrs. Elsie Scheits had been made ill by eating the fruit. The police learned of the case, an investigation was made by Chief Lees, who, after having Miss Campbell identified as a recent purchaser of arsenic, connected her with the basket and purchase of the glaced fruit. Confronted with the discoveries, Miss Campbell confessed her plot. There will be no prosecution, as the law does not cover the case. Bishop Becker Dying. ATLANTA, Ga., July 29.—Bishop Becker, at the head of the Catholic Church in Georgia, is reported to be dying in Wash-
